THE SINGLE LADIES OF JACARANDA VILLAGE is her first novel. Like the weather it could be forecast but not controlled. The crew treat her with deference. And forbearance. Repeatedly. I read this in one sitting. Absolutely delightful. And inspiring. Henry Parker copes with daily life aboard a cruise ship. All the while searching for her beloved Henry. A beautifully written and endearing novel. English Mrs. Henry Parker is looking for her husband Henry. Heart rending joyful happy and tearful. Charming memories of a life well lived. English "Home. Evelyn considered the word. The clasp sprang open revealing all manner of objects. The tiara. An unopened letter. A fountain pen and a spare bottle of blue black Quink. Mints. Coleridge. A wooden carving of a turtle and its baby. Silence she decided was far frightening. It only made her worries and fears easier to hear. She tutted her judgement. Funny and feel good a wonderful read. I was not disappointed. Ms. I wont spoil the end but I loved the characters. A truly lovely book. It is poignant but so delicately written. There are also plenty of laugh out loud moments.
