Mr. Baughan does a wonderful job making one's skin crawl. Beth Brown's modern retelling of one of Poe's tales in Mr. I'll never look at ventriloquists the same way. The ending was a total surprise to me. 231 Creeper by Phil D. Ford.

Richmond Macabre fiction books

It was eerie just for that. The details are cringeworthy. Yes they're all that good. It's worth the read. And if you haven't been to Richmond buy it anyway. It's an amazing collection.
