Dana R. Lynn. 224 You can read my review in the Feb. 2016 issue of RT Bookreviews magazine. 224 I really enjoyed this book. A killer who was dressed as a LaMar Pond policeman. Trusting Lieutenant Dan Willis is frightening. But to protect her babies she'll risk anything. Even her life. Maggie witnesses her husband's murder and goes on the run. Unbeknownst to everyone she is pregnant with twins. But someone has found her. I loved the romance between Maggie Dan. She didn't know where to go or who to trust. The person that killed her husband also wants Maggie dead. Her baby's stole my heart throughout the book. He finds her just as she is been attacked. He gets hurt defending her. He is not hurt bad. This is a story with a lot of twist and turns. Maggie has not trusted in God in a very long time. Lieutenant Dan is a Christian. He gives her hope. When Maggie thought she was going to die she prayed. After that she started building a relationship with God. She and Dan also got closer throughout the book. This was just a excellent book.I think. During that time she gave birth to twins. Her husband had been shot and killed by a policeman.Dan has spent months looking for Maggie.I really enjoyed the growing relationship between Dan and Maggie. The epilogue was really sweet.The secondary characters were great. I loved seeing Jace and Melanie from the first book. I am very intrigued by Dan's boss and friend Paul. Lynn. Talk about fast-paced! 4.5 stars 224
