It also felt kind of old school. Almost formal in the interactions and relaying of events. And the author did not spare any details. Everything every character did and thought was written down. Like a play-by-play. I ended up skipping a lot. I don't really need a step by step guide. 30% in and still skimming a lot. She acted strange. Her reaction does not ring true. Almost DNF but I have a thing about finishing books. I will not be reading the other books in this series. Hawke and Emilia have been friends since they were kids. As danger heats up so do their feelings for each other. Hawke is ex-military who helps run a security firm. This is a friends to lovers romance. Hawke is a great character. The storyline has drama conflict danger and Passion. English good. I loved the premise of the story. Emily Jane Trent is a true romantic at heart. She's devoted her biotech career to finding the cure. Emilia is a close friend from his past. He risks all to rescue Emilia and save a child's life. As danger closes in Hawke's possessive side surges. He hadn't expected to lose his heart. But in this steamy friends-to-lovers romance he is in deep. This is the first I've read in this series. It's a race against time to produce the serum. HEA.5 ☐ I think I skimmed about 50% of the book. Not sure exactly what but the writing style bothered me. It read almost like an essay. By the way the culprit was a total surprise. I would recommend this book. English
